Red Rockets Fall Behind U.N. Lines

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (AP)—Rockets of the type used by the Russians in the Second World War have landed behind Allied lines on the east central front, it was officially reported today.

Expect Reds Will Smear Jap Treaty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Andrei Gromyko is going home from the San Francisco conference with Russia's worst postwar diplomatic defeat on his record—and with ammunition for a new wrecking campaign against the Japanese Peace Treaty.

U.S. diplomats predicted Russia will do its utmost to undermine popular support for the treaty with a massive propaganda attack throughout Asia and the Far East.

Gromyko, who left by train for New York Sunday, prepared the ammunition for that assault in his speeches and actions at the peace conference—notably by his charges of American "dictation" and his repeated forecasts of a "new war" in the Orient. He also made much of Communist China's exclusion.

At some point, furthermore, it is considered probable that Russia will put forth, in collaboration with Communist China, plans for a separate Communist-bloc peace treaty with Japan.

Forty-eight countries signed the peace treaty with Japan Saturday. For three tense days of debate Gromyko has cried his warnings of war and had tried to get acceptance of amendments which would have rendered Japan defenseless.

But at the signing the U.S. scored a clean sweep. Not one country was held back by Gromyko's arguments.

Oil Uncontrollable

EDMONTON (CP)—A wild oil well 12 miles northwest of Edmonton was still out of control today. There was no fire.

The well—California Standard 11-11—blew in at noon Sunday with a strong gas flow. Trouble developed shortly after 6 p.m. and the well began shooting a stream of oil 150 feet into the air.

LIFT CLOSURE ON FORESTS AT MIDNIGHT

Loggers Will Resume Work

Termination of forest closures in the Vancouver forest district from midnight tonight was announced today by Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney.

This lifts the general forest closure established in July 12 as well as the Sayward forest travel closure put into effect June 22. Week-end rain allowed the opening of the woods, which will mean resumption of work for hundreds of loggers and mill workers.

Although the travel closure in the Sayward forest has been lifted and hunters can look forward to the blue grouse season opening on schedule in that area, forest service officials stated that in accordance with the usual practice, certain private forest service access roads will continue to be closed to vehicle traffic. Hunters on foot can, of course, enter the area at will.

WILL IT RAIN?

Royal Visit 'Willies' For Weatherman

Gonzales weatherman William Mackie is thinking about taking a holiday when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh visit Victoria in October.

If he goes away, it won't be because the friendly weatherman has anything personal against the Royal Couple... he's afraid of the weather and the woe it may bring.

"I'll get it in the neck if it rains during their visit here," he said, "because so many people think all I have to do is to turn a tap on or off."

After checking October weather records over the past 77 years, he came to the conclusion there was a 50-50 chance it would rain.

"And as far as sunshine," he sighed, "unless we get an odd October we can consider ourselves lucky if we see the sun four hours a day."

"Yes," he added, "it would be a good time to take a holiday."

U.N.—Reds Exchange Sharp Words

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—United Nations' officers today swapped sharp words with Communists in Kaesong after investigating a Communist charge that an Allied plane strafed the cease-fire conference city this morning.

The U.N. officers refused to give the Reds an on-the-spot report of their investigation. They also refused to concede that an attack had occurred or that a U.N. plane was involved.

They acknowledged only that during a four-hour check-up of the alleged neutrality-zone violation they found one bullet mark and a dozen 50-calibre slugs in and around a group of stone houses. "The houses were about three-quarters of a mile from the site of the suspended armistice talks."

The investigators said the bullets appeared to have been fired from several directions and at different angles.

This would conflict, they said, with the Red assertion that the plane made one pass over the house.

When the investigation was completed, the senior Allied officer refused a Communist demand for a reply to the charge.

King Leads 'Normal' Life, Says Spokesman

LONDON (AP)—A Buckingham Palace spokesman, commenting on press speculation that the King is seriously ill, said today he "is continuing to lead his normal life."

The spokesman noted that the King's doctors have issued no bulletins on his condition recently. Such bulletins are usually put out on occasions when he has a specific ailment.

The King made a trip by train from his Scottish castle of Balmoral to London Saturday for an X-ray examination. He then flew back to resume his grouse-shooting holiday.

Military Hero Papagos Registers Smashing Victory In Greek Voting

ATHENS (AP)—Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, military hero who smashed Communist resistance in the Greek civil war, led decisively today in Sunday's voting on leadership in the government.

Unofficial returns from 3,011 of 3,910 precincts made Papagos virtually sure to take command of the country with a clear majority of parliament's 260 seats.

With 899 precincts still to report, his new Royalist Greek rally party led the ticket with 35 per cent of the votes.

Unofficially dubbed "The Man on the White Horse," Papagos is a right-wing leader counted to lead Greece out of the political instability it has had since it was liberated seven years ago.

Second in the race was another former cavalry officer, Gen. Nicholas Plastiras, with nearly 25 per cent of the ballots.

Plastiras, a war hero called "The Man on the Black Horse," is counted as left of centre by

GREEK POLITICAL OBSERVERS. He leads the Progressive Union party. Former premier Sophocles

Venzelos and his Liberal party climbed up to a 18.2 per cent rating, which would put him into the second and third rounds of seat allocations with Papagos and Plastiras under the complicated reinforced proportional system.

Early in the returns, the Communist-backed Democratic Front party ran third, but later dropped behind the Liberals.

Today's statement said "representations were made in April about the arrest of United Kingdom, Australian, Canadian and United States nationals and their detention incommunicado, often without any explanation of the reason for their arrest."

"However, the position has in fact deteriorated since that time. Arbitrary arrests and detention for indefinite periods without access to families, friends or nations' representatives have continued."

Continuing concern

"Harsh treatment has been inflicted on missionaries of all denominations and on other people who have for many years been engaged in humanitarian work in China. In addition, continual difficulties and delays are placed in the way of all classes of foreign nationals wishing to obtain entry and exit permits."

"The treatment inflicted on the Canadians in China is a matter of continuing concern to the Canadian Government."

The cessation of exports of oil from Iran not only removes the justification for these exceptional facilities but also makes it necessary for the United Kingdom to spend large sums of dollars on replacement oil," the statement said.

Iran enjoys "exceptional privileges" which enable it to convert sterling into dollars and to get actual dollars where these are required for its trade, the sources said. These privileges were granted by Britain because of advantages derived from her oil trade with Iran. The advantages had gone since oil supplies were stopped through the dispute over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Iran, though not a member of the sterling countries for which Britain is the banker, must ask Britain's permission to convert sterling into dollars.

ULTIMATUM ANYWAY

TEHRAN (AP)—Premier Mohammad Mossadegh—having failed twice to get a parliamentary confidence vote for his "get-tough" oil policy—says he will send Britain an ultimatum anyway on reopening the disrupted talks.

Jap Treaty Ushers In New Era, Says Envoy At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Formation of a Pacific defense pact similar to the Atlantic Pact was forecast Sunday night by External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson.

In his first report to the nation after signing the Japanese peace treaty at San Francisco Saturday, Mr. Pearson ran into a constant stream of interruptions from scattered members of an audience of more than 2,000 in a Vancouver theatre.

China's Policy To Canadians Draws Rebuff

Seven Citizens Said To Be Under Arrest

OTTAWA (CP)—The External Affairs Department announced today that Canada has expressed "grave concern" to Peking "at (Communist) China's policy toward Canadians and request that measures be taken in the near future to bring about an improvement in the situation."

Noting that seven Canadians are known to be under arrest in China, the department said that Canada made representations Sept. 1, through the United Kingdom, charge d'affaires in Peking to the foreign minister of the Central People's Government of China.

This action marked the first time that the Canadian Government has publicly assailed China for conduct which has caused considerable concern here.

The policy in the past has been to work quietly and without publicity in an effort to help those imprisoned.

Today's statement said "representations were made in April about the arrest of United Kingdom, Australian, Canadian and United States nationals and their detention incommunicado, often without any explanation of the reason for their arrest."

"However, the position has in fact deteriorated since that time. Arbitrary arrests and detention for indefinite periods without access to families, friends or nations' representatives have continued."

Continuing concern

"Harsh treatment has been inflicted on missionaries of all denominations and on other people who have for many years been engaged in humanitarian work in China. In addition, continual difficulties and delays are placed in the way of all classes of foreign nationals wishing to obtain entry and exit permits."

"The treatment inflicted on the Canadians in China is a matter of continuing concern to the Canadian Government."

Mr. Pearson said a Pacific pact will gradually develop out of treaties recently signed by the United States with the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Japan.

"When the question of a regular agreement comes up for discussion, that will be a different matter. Canada will take it as seriously as it did the Atlantic Pact."

Mr. Pearson said he hoped Japan would soon be granted membership in the United Nations and that Canada would exchange full diplomatic relations with that country.

He left for Ottawa Sunday night where he will attend a meeting of the Atlantic Pact Council later in the week.

BRANDS TALK FALSE

In an interview earlier, he said Russian talk of war arising out of the Japanese Peace Treaty is false.

"Quite the reverse is true," he said. "The Japanese treaty is the best we could get. It will foster peace."

Mr. Pearson held a press conference immediately after his arrival by R.C.A.F. plane from San Francisco where the treaty was signed. With him were Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, of Victoria, and eight others in the Canadian delegation.

He said statements by Gromyko about western war aims were "aimed at Asia for propaganda purposes, as all his remarks were."

The minister said the Russians had been "badly beaten" at San Francisco.

"But they did not put up as much of a fight as was expected."

BECAUSE BEVERLY WASN'T SORRY

World Watches Brave Marriage

JOLIET, Ill. (UP)—Pvt. and Mrs. Hubert Reeves began a marriage today that millions of Americans are watching as a test of young courage.

Reeves is a quadruple amputee of the Korean war.

The 19-year-old soldier was married yesterday to Beverly Jean Hall in the First Baptist Church.

More than 600 persons crowded into the church which normally holds only 450. They watched as Reeves, seated in a wheelchair, gave the responses to the ceremony without taking his eyes from his dark-haired bride.

bringing tangible proof the widespread well wishes for the teen-age couple.

Both of Reeves' feet and all but one of his fingers were amputated after he suffered severe frostbite during the winter campaign in Korea. He had been in combat scarcely a month.

He met Beverly after he was returned to the United States for extensive surgery. She wrote to him when she read about him in newspapers and Reeves said he was attracted to her because her letters did not say that she felt sorry for him. He visited her in Wilmington, Ill., and the romance began.

Gifts from nation

Many women in the audience wept openly during the ceremony. Gifts from all over the nation poured in on the newlyweds.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

ANCIENT ANNALS

WHILE turning out an old desk—a family piece that had probably lain in an attic, along with old trunks, discarded furniture, and all the other things that we human squirrels hoard in attics—a local resident came across an interesting collection of old papers. Among the yellowing sheets were copies of English newspapers and journals dating back to the 17th century, some of which I have been perusing with avid interest.

For instance, there was a copy of "The Intelligencer, A Perfect Journal of Some Passages in Parliament, and the Daily Proceedings of the Army under His Excellency the Lord Fairfax. From Monday the 28th. Janu. till Munday the 3th of Feb. 1648. Collected for the Satisfaction of Such as Desire to be Correctly Informed."

KING'S EXECUTION

THAT QUAINLY-NAMED forerunner of the modern newspaper and Hansard devoted most of its eight tiny pages to a detailed account of the trial and execution of King Charles the First, "being for the Notorious Treasons, Tyrannies and Murders committed by him in the late Unnatural and Cruel way condemned to death."

In another little publication of the period, "THE WEEKLY NEWS" of MUNDAY, 31st January, 1666, almost the sole contents consist of what is described in its opening paragraph as "A Brief Discourse upon the Arraignment and Execution of the eight TRAYTORS—Digby, the two Winters, Graunt, Rookwood, Keyes, Bates and Johnson, alias Guy Fawkes, four of which were executed in St. Paul's Churchyard in London, upon Thursday the 27th last, the other four in Old Palace Yard, in Westminster, over against the Parliament House, and with a relation to the other Traytors which were executed at Worcester."

SENSATIONAL, TOO

THE DEVOTION of that whole issue to this grim climax to the Gunpowder Plot suggests that the chroniclers of those days were just as given to sensationalism as the press of today. Obituaries of celebrities—whether they died at the hands of executioners or from natural causes—were also popular reading, it seems.

For instance "The Gazette, Comprising: The Sum of Foreign Intelligence, with the Affairs now on foot in the Three Nations of England, Scotland and Ireland, for Information of the People, from Thursday, September 2 to Thursday, September 9, 1658," is almost entirely given over to the death of Oliver Cromwell, the appointment of his successor and the ceremonies attendant upon such happenings.

EDITORIAL EULOGY

THE EDITOR of the 17th century Gazette starts out: "His most serene and renowned Highness Oliver Lord Protector, being after a sickness of about fourteen days reduced to a very low condition of body . . . began early this morning to draw near the gates of death, and it pleased God about three o'clock this afternoon to put a period to his life, I would willingly express upon this sad occasion the deep sorrow which hath possessed the minds of his most noble son and successor, and other dearest relations, had I language sufficient. But all that I can use will fall short of the merits of that excellent Prince."

After that, and lots more like it, it was a bit disconcerting to read: "This afternoon the physicians and chirurgeons appointed by the order of the Council to embowel and embalm the body of his late Highness, and fill the same with sweet odours, performed their duty."

But more tomorrow.

Nehru Accepts Presidency In Latest India Showdown

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru formally accepted today the presidency of his ruling Congress Party but asked that a full two-session of its 5,000 delegates be called Oct. 18 to ratify the victory he won Saturday over Hindu conservatives in the party.

The party's national committee adopted a resolution Saturday asking Nehru to assume the office, to replace resigning Purushottamdas Tandon. Tandon had led a dissident faction opposing the prime minister's domestic policies.

Nehru accepted informally Saturday but asked the committee to "sleep over the question." When the committee met again Sunday, 300 of the 369 delegates greeted the prime minister with repeated cheers of "Victory to India," indicating their desire that he lead the party.

Nehru said he had come to the conclusion that, although he did not favor the principle of having the prime minister act also as the party chief, he could not escape the "responsibility during the emergency for a temporary period."

WILL CALL SESSION

The committee then agreed to call the plenary session in October.

The party's national committee unanimously accepted the proffered resignation of Tandon, who was elected president last summer against Nehru's wishes. Nehru forced the showdown. He resigned recently from all committees of the congress high command and demanded a wholesale reorganization. Tandon accepted the challenge by offering the committee his own resignation.

The issue was decided at a meeting called to consider the Congress Party ticket for 4,104 parliamentary and legislative seats in India's first general election next January.

Nehru's lieutenants had charged that, if the Tandonites controlled the nominations, Nehru might be forced out of the prime ministry, or at least would face a hostile parliament during the next five years.

Tandon, 69, has stressed the spread of Hindu culture as a paramount goal of national policy, hinted that he favors closer relations with the west, and said Nehru's policy toward Moslem Pakistan is too soft.

Pupils In Crime Back In Classes

The city police blotter showed today that the week-end was a busy one for adult prowlers and young second story men.

Four reports were received Saturday night and Sunday from householders who observed prowlers around their premises and two break-ins were listed. The break-ins were blamed on juveniles.

A resident close to 1515 Belcher Street prevented serious damage being done to a vacant house at that address. He discovered two young boys had entered the house and had started a fire in the middle of the kitchen floor.

He extinguished the fire before any damage was done.

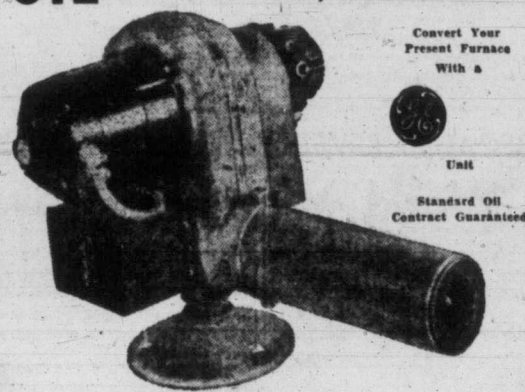

The unused Patterson Brass Foundry at 534 David Street was entered after the front-door padlock had been smashed. Nothing was taken. Footprints indicated boys had been responsible.

B.C. Union Head Barred From Meet

Alex Gordon Ousted From T.L.C. Convention On Communist Charge

HALIFAX (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention today confirmed the disbarment of Alex Gordon of Vancouver as a convention delegate.

Gordon, head of the B.C. Fishermen's union, was barred from the convention yesterday by the T.L.C. executive on the ground of Communist leanings.

More than 400 delegates upheld the action almost unanimously in the convention's opening bout with Communists.

Congress president Percy Bengough, addressing the opening session, said the skyrocketing cost of food and household commodities is the "immediate worst" of the "unwanted babies on our doorstep."

Mr. Bengough in his address to more than 400 delegates, laying down one of the major themes of the annual session of the 500,000-member congress, declared:

"It is true that the government has sought to restrict buying, but this is comparable to mopping up the floor without stopping the leak and at best is class legislation, restricting only the buying of the poor unless they, as many have been forced to do, borrow the required down payment from a shark loan company."

RAPS GOVERNMENT

The veteran president delivered a blow at the federal government for its recent statements—through Prime Minister St. Laurent and Labor Minister Gregg—that more production by Canadians would be one of the key ways of overcoming inflation.

"We have heard so much from half-baked economists on the need for more production and longer hours in order to curb inflation," he said, "yet sickness and poor health still remain as a greater cause of lost time than all other causes put together."

Catholic Bishop Faces Death In Bucharest Trial

BUCHAREST, Romania (UP)—Ten men, including high Roman Catholic clergymen and officials, were put on trial for their lives today on charges of high treason.

The prosecution, demanding the death penalty, said all the defendants had confessed to a plot against the security of the Communist state and had implicated United States, Vatican, British, Italian and Swiss officials.

U.S. Catholic Bishop Patrick O'Hara, Papal Nuncio who was expelled from Romania after a previous spy trial in 1950, was among those alleged to have been involved.

The prosecution said the defendants confessed spying for an organization, with headquarters at Timisoara, near the Yugoslav border, under the direct leadership of the Vatican. After the expulsion of Vatican officials, the prosecution alleged, Italian diplomats took over leadership and sent reports to the Vatican through the Italian legation here.

According to the indictment, Bishop O'Hara promised that U.S. planes would parachute arms, food and supplies for any rebels against the government.

Victoria's police force will be out at full strength on Monday, Oct. 15, when Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip make the rounds of the city.

And they called it—

ROBERTSON STREET

BEHIND THE SIGNS WITH Jim Nesbitt

Robertson Street, in the Centennial area, was named for A. Rock Robertson, who, before he was 40, had been a member of the Legislature, Mayor of Victoria, Provincial Secretary, and Justice of the Supreme Court.

Robertson was born in Ontario and came to Victoria in the early 1860s. He took an active part in the move to have the capital of British Columbia transferred from New Westminster to Victoria, and supported B.C.'s union with the other provinces in Confederation.

In 1871 Robertson was elected member for Esquimalt in the Legislature. He was the first Provincial Secretary in British Columbia's history, being named by the first Premier, Hon. J. P. McCreight. In 1880 he was appointed Supreme Court Judge, but served in this office for less than a year. Robertson died at the age of 40, leaving seven sons.

MAIL PILES UP UNDER BERLIN TRAFFIC BLOCK

BERLIN (Reuters)—More than $5,000 parcels addressed to West Germany were piled up here today, because of a week-old East German restriction on Berlin's traffic to the west.

East German police have refused to allow west-bound mail cars to cross the international border at Marienborn. They claim that some of the cars are so overloaded that it is impossible to check them properly.

This restriction is being imposed at the same time as the tax on vehicles using the autobahn between West Germany and the western zone of Berlin.

Allied sources said today the West Berlin authorities have protested to the Western powers against the hold-up of mail cars.

The three Western Allies today were still waiting a reply to their protest, Friday, against "continued interference with normal trade and communication between West Berlin and West Germany."

Tri-Party Fish Treaty To Guard B.C. Industry

Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew said today a Canadian delegation is expected to go to Tokyo next month to open negotiations with Japan for a fisheries treaty.

In Vancouver after his return from the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco, Mr. Mayhew said a three-way fisheries treaty among Canada, the United States and Japan is being prepared. The peace treaty required Japan to enter such an agreement.

The Fisheries Minister said "reasonable agreement" has been reached with Washington and that he had talked with Premier Yoshida of Japan at the peace conference.

Object of the treaty is to protect fish, particularly salmon and halibut, which Canada and the U.S. propagate and conserve. The Japanese will be asked to agree not to fish in territorial waters of Canada and the U.S.

Mr. Mayhew said many British Columbians had a wrong idea about Japanese fishing activities here before the war. He said they never fished in B.C. waters.

Mr. Mayhew was unable to return to his Victoria home before returning to Ottawa.

Probe Alberni Driver's Death

An inquest has been ordered for tomorrow at Nanaimo to probe circumstances in the death of Omer Chaput, 27, of Port Alberni, instantly killed in a Saturday afternoon traffic accident a mile north of Ladysmith.

Injured in the accident was W. A. Trompou, 33, also of Port Alberni. He suffered cuts and shock and is in Ladysmith General Hospital.

R.C.M.P. believe Chaput was the driver of the car which was proceeding south on the Island Highway, went out of control and crashed into a pillar of the Diamond Bridge. The vehicle was a total wreck. Body of the car was sheared in half by the impact. Parts of the wreckage skidded 45 feet down the length of the span. Chaput's body was thrown clear of the wreckage.

Temporary Town Of Tar-Paper Covered Houses Rises At Kitimat

The most important thing to happen to the province of British Columbia since the coming of the transcontinental railroads is new $550,000,000 Aluminum Co. of Canada project which is now under way at Kitimat. A 200-mile front of peak-studded virgin northland is being slashed away by over 2,000 men and a million dollars' worth of machinery to clear a road and site for the giant new smelter and a city which will eventually house 50,000 people. To power largest aluminum smelter in the world, the commonwealth's biggest earthen dam is being thrown across the Nechako River canyon to reverse the flow of some of the Fraser River's source waters. (S.N.S. photo.)

NEW CHAMPION CLAM-EATER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Gulping down 199 raw clams in 20 minutes won postal clerk John J. Staines a champion's title Sunday. He out-swallowed "Izzy" Weintraub, a 200-pound jitney driver who had been champ clam-eater for seven years.

Farewell Party Of Honor Guest Scene Of Death

PORT ALBERNI — T. J. "Tommy" Noble, 41, personnel manager for Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Ltd. for nine years, died of a heart attack over the weekend at a farewell party in his honor. He had recently accepted a position with Forest Industrial Relations in Vancouver, and was to start work on Oct. 1. He was dancing with his wife when he collapsed, and an inhalator, squad rushed to the scene failed to revive him after 45 minutes' work. Mr. Noble started work for B.S. & W. 15 years ago as a bull cook, and was well known for his part in recent labor negotiations between the company and the International Woodworkers of America. He leaves his wife and two children.

Polio On Increase

FEARS RAPID RISE IN HOSPITAL COSTS

Jubilee Administrator Warns Investigators 25 Per Cent Jump In 18 Months Anticipated

Expressing fear that hospital costs would rise rapidly over the next 18 months, George Masters, Royal Jubilee Hospital administrator, warned the Legislature's hospital insurance commission Saturday the full pressure of the past year's inflation had not yet been felt.

Industrial concerns should make direct contributions to B.C.'s hospital insurance plan, in the opinion of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

Harold Thayer of the labor council said such contributions should be on a level compatible with the wealth industries produce.

deductions made by Hospital Insurance Service be restored.

"Hospitals are on the verge of meeting the full pressure of 14 months' inflation," he added. "We will be fortunate if total hospital costs in B.C. do not increase more than 25 per cent in the next 18 months."

The board met in Ladysmith today, and will hear submissions tonight in the Legion Hall, Nanaimo. It will meet in Port Alberni Tuesday and in Courtenay Tuesday.

A local resident, John G. Watson, asked that all subscribers be notified if struck off payroll deductions. In his own case, he said, he changed employers, had deductions made by the new firm, and did not know until he went to hospital that the new deductions were for a private medical scheme that did not cover the insurance.

Britain's Rations Cut Again

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain, since the war the land of perennial shortages, today had official cuts in three basic food items and faced unofficial rationing in a fourth.

The weekly cheese ration fell from two ounces to one and one-half ounces for each member of the family.

The butter ration fell to three ounces from four.

From next Sunday the bacon ration will drop from four ounces to three.

Coupled with the new official cuts came an unofficial rationing of milk due to dwindling of supplies in the off-season.

Butchers were the only merchants to greet housewives more cheerfully today. They served an increased ration of two shillings a week.

This has risen from one shilling and 10 pence.

Tapping 180 tons of refined steel from an Open Hearth furnace into a ladle, at Hamilton Works.

Facts about STEELMAKING

When completed, Stelco's expansion program will add 650,000 tons of steel to Canada's yearly supply. You see what this means when you realize that this extra steel would enable Canadians to make . . .

- ... 162,500 new houses
- or 432,000 automobiles
- or 186,000 trucks
- or 43,000 freight cars.

Challenging problems of production face Canada today. Prudence and the needs of progress demand that Canada must be strong tomorrow. And so much depends on steel!

That is why Stelco is investing $50,000,000 in a night-and-day expansion program . . . designed to give Canada still more steel in the months and years to come.

This program is in action now. Its planned results are steadily taking shape in vigorous exploration of new iron ore resources . . . in vast new ore docks and storage dumps . . . in a costly new blast furnace, equal in pig iron capacity to any other in the world . . . in a battery of eighty-three new coke ovens . . . in four new open-hearth furnaces, from which will pour a 650,000-ton river of additional new steel to sweep Canadian industry ahead to even higher production goals.

All this future-minded work is going ahead without interruption of Stelco's current steel output, which is at an all-time-record "high" . . . and growing fast . . . to make a stronger Canada.

A Word For The Senate

AT ITS AUTUMN SESSION, THE OTTAWA dispatches tell us Parliament will consider again the reform of the Senate. Any citizen who reads Hansard, the parliamentary record, may wonder whether the Senate requires reform as much as the Commons.

The Senate alone has been giving adequate consideration to the finances of the country while the over-worked Commons passes billions in expenditures with no serious attempt at examination. But more striking, only the Senate has seen and objected to the new dairy legislation which would gravely damage the nation's constitution by forbidding interprovincial trade.

The Commons passed Mr. Gardiner's dangerous law virtually without debate and with no recorded vote. Everybody apparently agreed that the federal government might co-operate with any province in halting the importation of all dairy substitutes like margarine and, by the same principle, should be permitted to interfere with any other product. But 15 senators, to their honor, saw at once where this precedent was leading and opposed it. They were voted down by 21 senators, most of them from Quebec, which bans margarine, but they made the fight which should have been made in the Commons.

Those who imagine that the Senate is an old man's home for Liberal fuddies should read the speeches of men like Senator Hugessen and Senator Euler.

Representing that area of Quebec nearest Ottawa, Senator Hugessen observed that his constituents, many living across the river in Quebec but working in Ottawa, were in the habit of buying a pound of margarine in the city and taking it home at night. If the new law is applied their cars can be searched at the end of the Ottawa bridge, their margarine can be confiscated and they can be fined $500 or jailed for six months.

This process, as the senator says, will soon become a farce like prohibition. When Canadians insist on buying margarine legally in one province they will certainly use it illegally in another. The law will simply make criminals of people in one province for doing what their neighbors, a few yards away, do legally.

Like prohibition, this law will undermine respect for all law. The margarine bootlegger is surely one of the oddest inventions of a House of Commons too busy or too weak to realize what it was doing. The Senate, by exposing this extraordinary business, has demonstrated the value of a parliamentary chamber of second thoughts and in this incident at least has answered those who would abolish it.

Principles And Policy First

BEFORE THE CITY COUNCIL CAN give intelligent consideration to the details of Robert Dobie's traffic report, it will have to determine its position on policy and certain principles. The document laid before the transportation committee last week contains 25 recommendations. On most of them some objections may be expected.

In the weeks and months ahead, the mayor and aldermen will be required to sift the representations that are made on specific points and determine to what extent the proposed changes serve the citizens as a whole.

Within the report are precedent-setting clauses which could be exceedingly dangerous. For instance, Mr. Dobie suggests that "the city, in recognizing the undoubted value to the community as a whole of the provision of car parking facilities should by rebate of taxes or other means encourage owners of suitable disused or dilapidated land to convert to parking areas." If the council follows that advice, how will it respond to appeals for concessions from other private enterprises whose services provided "undoubted value to the community as a whole"? Will it, for instance, give tax rebates or other assistance to firms supplying milk or other commodities essential to living? Can it make fish of one and fowl of another? Here is a matter of principle which cannot be ignored.

When the mayor and aldermen consider the imposition of parking fines against motorists who over-park more than twice in a restricted area, can they find justification for penalizing unwitting victims of late or prolonged appointments in order to discipline willful violators of existing regulations?

These are two of several issues on which policy will be required. They differ substantially from recommendations for physical changes and bridge construction to establish new or different arteries. Creation of one-way streets need entail no great expenditure. Building of a bridge would. The latter, of course, is not advanced as an immediate objective.

The council will also doubtless hear protests from merchants and operators of businesses on streets from which heavy traffic might be diverted, traffic being a substantial ingredient in the number of potential shoppers. That is a question which should be decided on the individual merits of cases brought forward.

In some particulars the scheme submitted by Mr. Dobie involves drastic changes. That was to have been expected. Victoria's traffic problem cannot be solved merely by wishing for a solution.

Mr. Dobie has devoted five months to his study of the situation here. His conclusions merit, and doubtless will receive, close study by the elected representatives. There is much to applaud in the report he has presented. If there is also much that will cause controversy, that is a natural adjunct of any plan that disturbs the status quo.

Mr. Drew On The Warpath

MR. DREW TELLS A QUEBEC AUDIENCE that he has always favored children's allowances. The record suggests the contrary but Mr. Drew says that his views have been distorted by Liberal propagandists who took his earlier remarks out of context.

Whether Mr. Drew originally opposed children's allowances, as the Liberal party asserts, or favored them, is of little importance now. The interesting thing is that Mr. Drew now proposes to increase the allowances by paying the same benefit to each child, whereas under the existing law the benefits vary according to the size of the family.

This may be a desirable reform, though expensive for the taxpayers. It comes oddly, however, from the Conservative party, which is never tired of damning the government for spending too much.

In Quebec, the province of big families, Mr. Drew is trying to outdo the Liberal party by promising larger social benefits from the state. When he comes west we may expect to hear him preaching economy.

This may seem illogical to those who do not understand the finer points of politics, but it is consistent with the 1948 platform of the Conservative party, which has never been repealed. That platform proposes a gigantic increase in total government spending apart from defense. But, of course, it promises economy at the same time.

Mr. Drew, in short, is beginning the next election campaign already.

Recalling Some Dates

THE CHARGE LEVELED BY THE Soviet press against the United States, that it was trying to turn the Japanese peace-treaty conference into a "rubber stamp" ceremony scarcely calls for an answer. The men of the Kremlin should know the difference between such a conference and the puppetry of so-called satellite states. But it becomes even more inappropriate when the Soviet statement goes on to say that "large numbers of delegations" at the conference were from countries that "did nothing towards the destruction of Japanese militarism."

Let's look at a few dates. On Dec. 7, 1941, Japan struck at Pearl Harbor and started a wave of conquest which rolled on, without serious check, until the Battle of the Coral Sea in early May, 1942. At great price, and with the United States carrying the main burden, the Pacific allies fought back through the next three years, beating down the Japanese. On July 26, 1945, President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and General Chiang Kai-shek issued their ultimatum to Japan, already bludgeoned and crumbling fast. On August 5, the first atomic bomb was delivered at Hiroshima. Three days later, and on the eve of the second atomic bomb, Russia declared war and her troops crossed the Manchurian and Korean borders against a collapsing Nippon which offered to surrender the next day. Four days later the Japanese accepted the Allied terms.

Russia was in that war six days. Her delegates were at San Francisco to discuss the peace treaty. Whatever may be her claims to major consideration in the settlement of war issues elsewhere—and her losses were great in the west—she is not entitled to pose as a veteran of Japanese campaigning. The memory of the world is not so short that she will be accepted as such. Nor, having just squeezed in through the door, is she in a position to cry too loudly against other countries on the grounds of non-participation in that theatre.

More Prestige For Victoria

AN ANNOUNCEMENT ON FRIDAY OF two distinctions conferred on Victoria's Royal Jubilee Hospital will be genuinely applauded by this community. The institution has been recognized by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada as a centre in which senior internes may earn certification as specialists. In another field, the hospital has been designated by the B.C. Cancer Foundation as a cancer treatment centre—the first in British Columbia outside the main cancer institute in Vancouver.

The action of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada reflects an appreciation of the training programs in the hospital provided by the organized medical staff. Four clinics have been conducted weekly during the last five years. This, coupled with the fact that Victoria has a higher percentage of specialists among its doctors than any other city in Canada, furnishes full justification for the recognition accorded the Jubilee.

The establishment of the cancer treatment centre demonstrates confidence in the high competency of local personnel and the adequacy of facilities.

The community may take pride in the accolades which have been bestowed on a fine institution.

Korea And The Air Threat

By JOSEPH ALSOP From Washington
WITHOUT exception, the American leaders still believe that the Soviet leaders do not want a general war, and they are "holding that thought," as the pep lecturers used to say. None the less, it is also true that the fever chart is currently rising continuously and perceptibly, because of the increasing signs that the enemy in Korea means to end the Kaesong truce talks with another all-out offensive.

The signs are not conclusive. The offensive, if it comes, may perhaps be limited in scope. But on the whole, if the Chinese and North Koreans resume fighting in deadly earnest, it is expected to be a vastly more serious matter than the mere dragging continuation of the war on the old, pre-Kaesong basis. At the very least, there will be many heavy pressures on the side of widening the Korean fighting into full-scale Far Eastern war.

For one thing, if the hopes raised by the Malik proposal and the Kaesong talks prove to be false, American public opinion is likely to be so outraged that the whole precarious concept of limited war will come apart at the political seams. Yet the danger is undoubtedly in the air, and it is a greater danger than most people think.

If this air danger materializes, it will do so in two stages, as it were. The first will be simple enough. The 400 to 500 Soviet jet fighters, and the 500 to 700 older model Russian fighter bombers and medium bombers now in Manchuria will be thrown into the battle at the beginning of the enemy offensive. "This Chinese and North Korean force (which is quite probably piloted largely by eastern European 'volunteers') may well achieve substantial initial successes, since our troops in Korea have no experience of enemy air action. In any case, the issue of counter-attacking the enemy air bases in Manchuria will at once be squarely posed.

Thus the second stage of the danger will open. Last December, when Prime Minister Attlee flew to Washington to plead with the President to limit the Korean war, his greatest fear was that the American Chiefs of Staff would be allowed to attack the Manchurian air bases. At that time the British participants in the White House talks claimed to have "hard intelligence" that American air attacks on Manchurian targets would bring the Soviet air force in Siberia into the fighting. This had been specifically agreed between Molotov and Mao Tse-tung, so it was claimed, when the Chinese intervention in Korea was first planned.

Since that close-to-hysterical White House meeting last December, a lot of water has gone over the dam. For one thing, the American Chiefs of Staff have thrashed out with their British and French opposite number the hypothetical question, "What to do if enemy air enters the Korean fighting in heavy force?" The agreed answer, decided upon, to be sure, some time before the Kaesong truce talks, was that counter-attacks beyond the Manchurian border would then become unavoidable. Thus it is now official policy, if need arises, to take the action that British "hard intelligence" said would bring the Russians into the war.

Perhaps knowledge of the Anglo-Franco-American agreement may also have altered the Soviet intentions reported by Prime Minister Attlee last December. High-level Pentagon opinion at the moment is that even after all-out air fighting begins, the Soviets will not send in their own Siberian air power unless the Chinese and North Koreans air units sustain a severe defeat. If that should happen, however (and naturally all hopes and expectations are that it will happen) the Soviets will have a hard time holding aloof much longer.

Finally, if the Soviet air power in Siberia is thrown into the fight, it will be an incalculably serious business in the simplest most local military sense. Counting Army, Navy and Marines to eighteen to twenty air wings now in action in the Far East. But in addition to the Chinese and North Korean Air Force of over 1,000 planes, the Soviets have over 3,000 combat aircraft on their Siberian bases, on a great arc reaching from Vladivostok into central Siberia. These Soviet air units in Siberia have lately had their obsolete aircraft largely replaced, and a great effort has been made to build up their formerly low stocks of fuel and other supplies.

IN SHORT, the Soviet air power in the Far East today is greater than our own. In the light of all these facts, the risk of a serious renewal of the Korean war ought to be plain to anyone. Yet perhaps the greatest danger is that these risks may not be plain to the masters of the Kremlin. The Soviet rulers may be pressed by the Chinese, or tempted by the hope of a knockout blow, or ready to gamble on the obvious possibility that a full-scale Far Eastern war will isolate America from the other Western allies. "I still think they don't want war in principle," as one wise high official put it, "but I've stopped even guessing what they may do in practice." That is the best summary of the current mood.

Shape's Insignia

Against the green fields of Europe the golden swords of the Allied Powers stand like the letter "A." Silver rays reach out their fingers from behind the swords to point the way to mutual security. "Vigilance is the price of freedom" is emboldened in Latin in gold. This is the new breast-pocket patch of Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe. We still live and die by but not for symbols. Kipling said the soul of a regiment is its colors, but he neglected to say that the colors are only the symbol of the spirit of men and countries.

The SHAPE insignia are the symbol of the spirit of the Western World. No better choice for a motto could have been made than "Vigilance is the price of freedom." That sentence ought to be emboldened on our minds. It is a memorandum to us that we must not weaken in our efforts to build and maintain a strong and sure defense against tyranny. There is no other way to keep the free world free.

A Light In The Window For A Wandering Boy

As Our Readers See It

AMPLE EVIDENCE

The enthusiastic gathering at the Arts Centre last Thursday evening is ample evidence of the spirit now prevailing among art lovers. The city's decision to accept the Spencer home on Moss Street as a centre for art, music and allied interests has been a wonderful tonic.

Congratulations to the far-sighted councillors who voted for this measure, and to the Times for its spirited support of the project.

MRS. SONRIA HUMPHRY,
Windsor Motor Court.

EXCEEDINGLY PLEASED

As an ordinary individual but very interested in any form of art may I say that I was exceedingly pleased to see that the City of Victoria established an Art Centre last week.

This is a most forward movement and although I know nothing of finance or costs, I do know that a community or populace of any place is known by its Arts and has been from time immemorial. From my association with Victorians in general it surprises me that a large Civic Art Gallery was not in existence before this.

May it prosper and keep beauty and excellence before the eyes of our growing generation so that Victoria may have a cultured heritage.

F. E. WHALE.

609 Toronto Street.

MRS. RODD'S REPORT

Your reporter's statement in the Daily Times of Wednesday, Aug. 22, referring to Mrs. Nora Rodd's report on Korea, was not only inaccurate, but also extremely misleading.

He writes that "Mrs. Rodd's stories of atrocities allegedly committed by U.S. troops were based on hearsay. She did not claim to have seen a single atrocity." Considering that the American troops retreated from North Korea in December, 1950, it was unlikely that Mrs. Rodd would have seen atrocities committed by them in the summer of 1951.

In any case, it is highly improbable that the troops of any country would have behaved in the way described in the presence of a delegation of women from Europe and other countries investigating conditions in Korea. Mrs. Rodd displayed film slides depicting the mass graves and pits in which Korean people had been buried, some of them alive, amongst whom were many women and children. The treatment of Korean civilians and prisoners of war has been corroborated by many people besides Mrs. Rodd, who also saw the ruined cities, devastated countryside of North Korea, the maimed and mutilated people still alive.

If these are not atrocities one might ask—what are they? These things are common knowledge and cannot be suppressed, nor can the truth be hidden from the people of the world.

(MRS.) E. A. PEASE.
2056 Oak Bay Avenue, Secretary, Victoria Peace Council.

APPRECIATION

I take this means of expressing very sincere thanks and appreciation to those who helped in our very successful Tag Day, which was held on Saturday, to Mrs. Phethean and her committee, the hospital nurses and other taggers, the press and all who assisted in any way.

(Mrs.) A. M. OKELL,
President, the Women's Auxiliary, Royal Jubilee Hospital.

DISCLAIMER

It has been brought to the attention of this Council that one of the candidates in the forthcoming by-election in Esquimalt calls himself an "Independent Labor Candidate."

In order that this should not cause any misunderstanding in the minds of members of our affiliated organizations and the public generally, I was instructed to ask the courtesy of your columns to point out that the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council has neither been asked for nor given its endorsement to any of the candidates.

A. P. RAYMENT,
Secretary-treasurer, Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

LOGGING AND FIRES

The recent example of mass hysteria by our provincial government, as exemplified by the closure of woods operations generally for a period of nearly two months, has resulted, not only in the loss of millions of dollars to the lumber industry and indirectly to all business in B.C., but a critical disruption of the whole woods organization as well.

The reasons given, "Fire Risk" can be refuted by:

1. Empty houses are considered greater fire risks than occupied ones.

2. Loggers and millmen are not fools—they know full well that fire-spells loss of potential livelihood and, should fire inadvertently break out, are "Johnny at the rat hole" to smother it before it makes headway.

3. Logging machinery of all kinds nowadays is operated by internal combustion Diesel or gas engines which, when properly screened do not throw sparks, and it would be just as sensible to order all cars and trucks off the road as they operate by the same power and further have no screened exhausts.

Our "Rip Van Winkle" department evidently functions under the old steam donkey idea.

Since Nov. 20, 1950, when snow closed nearly all the logging camps, to date of fire closure, about 90 per cent of woods workers have been employed for only 11-12 weeks, and with the closure coming at a time when they should be putting out a surplus of logs for winter sawing, are now faced with the prospect of a lengthy shut-down this coming winter.

Men can not keep wives and families on four or five months' work per year regardless of the high woods wages.

Small wonder that many of them are leaving the woods permanently to seek other, steadier employment.

C. A. HELGESEN,
Sooke, B.C.

Canadians Are Victims, Too

By NED H. DEARBORN
President, National Safety Council

SOMETIME this year, probably about the middle of December, the 1,000,000th traffic death will occur in the United States—unless there is mass determination to postpone that fateful date.

It is shocking to realize that since the turn of the century, since the first automobile chugged and hissed to the derision and excitement of a horse-drawn era, the lives of almost 1,000,000 men, women, and children have been squandered in one of the most senseless and tragic wastes of modern times.

But even more shocking than the toll is the inescapable fact that few Americans feel any real personal concern. As their fellows perish about them, they look on with a detachment and complacency that is difficult to understand and even more difficult to alter.

There rests the keystone of the entire traffic safety structure—personal concern. The duty of every responsible citizen is to strive for traffic safety as a voter, as a volunteer worker in whatever capacity his interests and abilities direct, and as a driver and pedestrian. Even the relatively small percentage of accidents caused by mechanical failure of motor vehicles could be reduced if owners would make sure their cars are in safe condition.

WHAT STIMULUS?

But what will it take to spur the whole nation into action? Will 1,000,000 deaths—the day of seven-figure reckoning—do it? If so, the dead will endure to some purpose and memorialize a new hope.

One million deaths, then, can be more than a morbid milestone on a road without ending. It is a place to examine the failures of the past and to plan for the future.

For more than a decade the techniques of traffic accident prevention, tested and proved by the National Safety Council and other organizations, have been available for application by any city or state. What has been the result?

The finger of accusation has been pointed repeatedly at the teen-age driver. Yet only a third of our eligible students are receiving driver education, and far less than that number are offered behind-the-wheel instruction.

Only 13 states permit tests of blood alcohol to be used in court against the most reprehensible motoring miscreant—the drinking driver. Yet scientific tests are the only sure measurement of intoxication.

BEHIND DEMANDS

Engineering and road building have fallen far behind the demands of the motor age. Lack of funds is the common excuse, yet billions of dollars in gasoline taxes have been diverted into channels of political expediency.

Automatic revocation of a driver's license for serious misconduct is invoked all too seldom. Jail sentences are few. The system of fines and penalties throughout the nation is a hodgepodge of improvisation, the temper of the court, and the stature and legal counsel of the defendant.

Officials can act effectively and decisively only within the limits of public support. Only a few states and cities have organized public support groups of influential citizens who can arouse the interest and crystallize the opinion of the community. And many of those that do exist are merely letterhead donations to the public good.

A little time remains before the 1,000,000th victim is counted. At best, that somber date can be pushed into 1952—if 1,000,000 ghosts are a reproach beyond acceptance. Are we going to do something about it?

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"ONE OF the big problems," said the Elevator Man, "of reformers and liberators, is the fact that oftentimes the patient doesn't want to be cured."

The African or South Sea native doesn't want a suit of clothes or a dress, he is happy in his loincloth or just a sultan. The old timer doesn't want a clean new apartment, he is happy in his comfortable, unsanitary old shack. The alcoholic doesn't want to switch to tea or apple juice, he is happy submerged in his rye or canned heat juice. The little lad doesn't want clean cars and a good uplifting book, he is happy grubbing under Dead-End Dick. And so it goes. The enthusiasm for reform is all too often one-sided. The very people you'd think would want it most are against it. They feel they aren't so much beneficiaries as victims. Going up!

"Somebody," said the Elevator Man, "ran into somewhat the same thing in Ohio last week. Some benefactor undid the gate of the dog pound one night, no doubt hoping all the mutts inside would get a break for freedom. But when the proud keeper arrived in the morning he found all the dogs still in the pen. Apparently they were quite satisfied to stay there. Maybe their one square meal a day seemed pretty good to them. Anyway, they turned a cold shoulder to the would-be liberator. Going down!

"That's the danger," said the Elevator Man, "where liberty's concerned. You can get used to the loss of freedom just like you can get used to anything. You can even start looking for advantages in your situation—the lack of cares and responsibilities, the food provided, and so on. You come to forget the big point—that you really quit living once you're penned up. You might as well be in a black box as a cell as far as you or the world is concerned, once you let cell-acceptance become a permanent frame of mind. There's a lot of people in the world today who've been without freedom for a long time. Their national frontiers have barred windows and doors. It'll be a sad thing if help is delayed so long that they forget what it's like outside."

New York Times

Maybe the paved streets, the uniform lighting, the chain stores have made most of the American towns superficially alike, and maybe they are only meant to be slow-down points on the way to a larger destination. Maybe the lack of real antiquities and the abundance of early American architecture—circa 1900—helps to blur them. The tourist's blur doesn't matter much, anyway. Who cares what he says? He's only on his way through, and if he does leave a couple of dollars behind in town for a meal, that's good, but that's all of him.

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—A $100,000 fire today destroyed the Hub Building in this Okanagan Valley city. The building housed a restaurant, taxi office, confectionery, bowling alleys and billiard parlor.

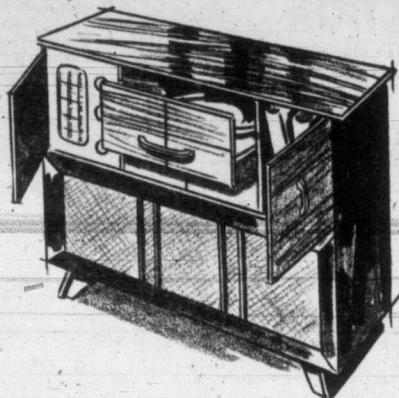

The blaze also knocked out about 1,600 telephones in the city. The Okanagan Telephone Company's main building is half a block from the ravaged structure.

Firemen battled the blaze—of unknown origin—for five hours before striking it out.

Quebec Traffic Smash Kills Nine

DRUMMONDVILLE, Quebec (CP)—Nine persons were killed and another severely injured, Saturday night, in one of Quebec's worst traffic mishaps.

Seven of the victims, travelling in an automobile that burst into flames after turning upside down, were burned to death. Provincial police said all were knocked unconscious in the head-on crash with a truck and could not get out of the car.

Dead are: Leopold Lemelin, 40, car driver, of St. Camille, Que.; Mrs. Lemelin, 47; the couple's four-year-old daughter, Noella; Raymond Filpaut, 25, of St. Camille; Mrs. Filpaut, 23; Gerard LeFebvre, 21; Benoit Gaudreau, 30, of St. Hyacinthe, Que.; Lionel Messier, 23, of St. Joseph de St. Hyacinthe.

Gaudreau and Messier were riding in a truck and provincial police said both had been drinking before a four-way collision. The vehicle was borrowed from a drinking partner who remained in St. Hyacinthe.

London's Lord Mayor Receives Ottawa Welcome

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa welcomed London's Lord Mayor and his lady Saturday night, but there was no red carpet, no civic dinner, no cocktails.

Instead, tall, 45-year-old Sir Denys Lowson was given an illuminated address and the key to the city. And his beautiful 32-year-old wife, daughter of an English lord, was presented with a big bouquet of red roses.

There civic ceremonies ended. The Lord Mayor and his party were whisked off to Government House as week-end guests of the Governor-General and Lady Alexander.

The job of welcoming the Lord Mayor and his party of two Sheriffs of the City of London and two footmen fell to Ottawa's acting mayor, Charlotte Whitton. Before the Lord Mayor's arrival in Canada, Miss Whitton had raised a fuss in the board of control for a big civic welcome. But it never came off.

Miss Whitton headed the civic delegation which met the Lord Mayor at the airport after a flight from Toronto.

Wearing her newly-acquired gold chain of office—smaller and not as dazzling as Sir Denys' dangling necklace—Miss Whitton introduced each controller and alderman.

Then the party drove to the city at a 40-mile-an-hour clip, Sir Denys holding his feathered tricorn to keep it from blowing off.

At a reviewing stand on Elgin Street Miss Whitton read the illuminated address over a public address system and presented the Lord Mayor with the key to the city.

Sir Denys, in reply, read a resolution of "greetings and goodwill" from the city of London to the city of Ottawa. Then the visiting party departed for Government House.

TWO KILLED IN PULP MILL

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—Steam and acid fumes at the Powell River Company Pulp Mill here killed two men Saturday.

The two were riding in an elevator in the mill when they were trapped by the fumes which escaped when a digester of cooked pulp was being discharged under pressure.

The 22-year-old housewife, who grabbed the title of "Mrs. New York City" Tuesday night, won the crown over 32 housewives. Mrs. Duncan, wife of Maynard Duncan, a student, is the mother of a two-year-old boy, Craig.

Britain Seen Trouble Bound Financially

Import-Export Price Gap Widens Seriously

LONDON (AP)—Britain seems headed for serious financial difficulties again.

The gap between the price she pays for her imports and what she gets for her exports has widened drastically in the last few months. Her dollar earnings are falling.

There are signs of a progressive world-wide weakening of confidence in the pound sterling. The New York price for free sterling, widely used to finance international trade, at the week-end stood at $2.51 to the pound, a discount of more than 10 per cent on the official rate of $2.80. Just before the start of the Korean war in June, 1950, the free pound was up to $2.70 in New York.

The free market price of pounds also has slumped in Switzerland—another "hard currency" country.

Another tip-off on the situation is the rising demand for Canadian and American securities on the London Stock Exchange. Money-wise British investors are bidding up dollar shares both with an eye to escaping the government's tax control over dividends and as a hedge against possible further devaluation of the pound.

All these symptoms were evident in the months preceding Britain's September, 1949, devaluation of the pound from $4.03 to $2.80 U.S.

CONTINUOUS STUDY

Unofficial reports say that treasury experts have the question of a further devaluation of sterling under almost continuous study. There is no official confirmation of this since any solid indication of probable devaluation immediately would cause traders to hold off orders from Britain until the new value was set—thus itself making inevitable such a step.

This was one of the factors that forced the 1949 devaluation. Devaluation eased the drain on Britain's gold and dollar reserves and enabled her to improve her trading position.

At the first of the year Britain proudly announced she was doing so well she could get along without any more Marshall aid. Today the picture has turned gloomy again. Raw material prices have fallen somewhat from their peak, but prices of British imports are more than 32 per cent above their 1950 average.

TO BULWARK FREEDOM

Pact 'Insures Security Of Defenseless Japan'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The United States and Japan Saturday signed a security treaty giving the U.S. the right to maintain its armed forces "in and about" Japan indefinitely.

The 14-minute signing ceremony, following by a few hours the 49-nation conclusion of a Japanese peace treaty, took place in San Francisco.

State Secretary Dean Acheson, principal signed for the U.S., hailed the treaty as a means "to bulwark freedom with military strength."

Japanese Premier Shigeru Yoshida, speaking in English, said "This pact insures the security of the unarmed and defenseless Japan."

The pact is a supplement to the peace treaty. Its practical effect is to make possible the retention of U.S. forces in Japan after the peace treaty ends the present military occupation.

The preamble to the treaty specifies that Japan "will increasingly assume responsibility for its own defense" but will avoid all weapons "which could be an offensive threat."

Unlike various mutual defense pacts entered into by the U.S. in the Atlantic and Pacific areas in recent years, the agreement signed Saturday imposes no formal commitment upon the U.S. for the defense of Japan. The pact states that "Japan grants" and the U.S. "accepts the right" to keep its forces "in and about Japan." No bases are specified.

"Savings play a vital part in the battle against inflation"

... says Emerson Creed, Financial Editor, The London Free Press

"Can inflation be checked?" "Every one of us is concerned with the answer to this vital question. Today's all-time high costs of goods and services affect the living standards of people in all walks of life; and those living on fixed incomes are especially hard hit.

"In addition to weakening our economy, inflation threatens our defence programme.

"Therefore every known method of controlling rising prices must be applied with vigour.

"Government measures such as increased taxes, credit restrictions and reduced non-defence spending are necessary, if unpopular. Of course, business and industry must co-operate—especially by increasing productivity. The average man might feel that any control he alone can exert is insignificant. But the individual can and should help by doing his utmost to save money.

"Every dollar he saves—through bank deposits, savings bonds or life insurance—plays a part in helping to stem the tide of inflation.

And at the same time, it brings the saver important personal benefits.

"These benefits need no reviewing. But it may be pointed out that nothing has changed their importance even though there are many demands and temptations to use income for other purposes. Nor has anything supplanted saving as the one method most people have of obtaining many of the things they want and need most.

"All in all, there are more reasons for personal savings today than ever before."

Emerson Creed

Vampires Are Big Boys Now; Dump Goblins 23-0

When local Canadian football fans talk about Ray Mitchell's Vampires from now on, they will refer to them in a different manner. It used to be that the Vampires were "those kids that might make a good team when they grow up."

Those kids have grown up now and all teams in the Victoria Junior Canadian Football League can take the word of the Oak Bay Goblins. In the first game of the season at Windsor Park yesterday the Vampires came of age and celebrated the occasion by whipping the Goblins 23-0.

Before a good opening crowd, Vampires made the most of every opportunity that came their way while Goblins did not get a break all afternoon. The potency of Goblins was shown many times but they had difficulty sustaining their attack. When Vampires found early in the game that they could not gain an inch through the Oak Bay line, they ran the ends and kept the air filled with passes.

Five fumbles resulted from the first nine plays after the kickoff with Oak Bay being the most offenders. After the ball changed hands several times, Wayne Henderson took off on a 35-yard jaunt to put Vampires in scoring position.

KICKS FIELD GOAL

Henderson then booted a 25-yard field goal putting his club ahead 3-0. After Goblins reeled off four straight first downs, Vampires took over and scored their first major, Ron McMillan passing to Vic Gallop. The conversion was blocked.

A 20-yard pass by McMillan set the stage for the second touchdown which was scored by Gallop on a pass from Henderson. Henderson converted to boost the lead to 14-0. Shortly before the half, Henderson booted his second field goal for a 17-0 half time lead.

The final Vampire points were scored on the nearest play of the day, McMillan running 20 yards around right end behind perfect blocking to hit the end zone unmolested. Henderson's convert boosted the score to 23-0.

Denies Playing William Tell In Shooting

Says Gun Fired Accidentally

MEXICO CITY (UP)—A grandson of the inventor of the adding machine said Saturday he accidentally killed his wife at a drinking party but denied trying to shoot a glass of champagne off her head in an imitation of William Tell as police reported.

"It was all a tragic mistake," William S. Burroughs, 37, of St. Louis, Mo., said. He said he shot his wife when he dropped a newly-purchased pistol on a table and it discharged accidentally.

"When my wife fell, I thought it was a joke," he said. Burroughs was arrested for homicide after his wife, Joan, 27, died at a hospital of a bullet wound in her forehead Wednesday night. He was held in federal penitentiary pending hearings.

"I did not put any glass on her head and if I did it must have been a joke and I certainly did not intend to shoot at it," he said. "It was purely accidental. I am sure that no one present or acquainted with the circumstances has the least doubt about it."

Burroughs said the fatal shooting occurred during a drinking party and admitted his memory was "very hazy." He said he was examining a new .38 calibre pistol when "dropped it and it hit the table and discharged."

He termed as "absolutely ridiculous" hints by local newspapers that he had been jealous of his wife.

"I loved my wife and had no cause whatever to be jealous," he said. "I am hopeful that my lawyer will prove the whole thing was an unfortunate accident."

IN HOLLYWOOD

Maria Fainted In Bathtub Before, Co-Worker Recalls

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hollywood remembers Maria Montez as the girl who swore she would become a movie star—and did.

After recovering from the shock of the exotic star's bathtub death in France, her fellow workers here recall many examples of her burning ambition. One of them told of her arrival at Universal studio. She announced: "In two years I am going to be a star."

She made it in less time than that. The prime factor in her success was—Maria Montez. She was colorful, she was explosive. But her rages were never pure temper. They were calculated to enhance her glamor.

"Maria could fight like a tigress," recalled a studio man. "But she never made it tough on the little people. She always fought with the studio higher ups—the ones who could fight back."

PUBLICITY KNACK
Few movie personalities have had such a knack for publicity. She was aware that photographs of her admirable frame were the fastest route to success. Many times the studio photographer would arrive at his gallery to find Maria camped on his doorstep. She might have been wearing a leopard skin or a fancy hat and would say, "Wouldn't this make a great picture?"

One co-worker recalls an incident which draws a grim parallel to the circumstances of Maria's death. It happened while she was doing a bath scene for one of her epics. She was uneasy about it and had the set cleared of unnecessary people.

After almost a whole day in the suds, she said, "I am going to faint."

"We just have three still pictures to shoot," the director said. "Wait until then."

The photographer took three more pictures. Then Maria fainted.

Canada's Mines Ministers Favor Forming Of National Fuel Council

SASKATOON (CP)—Establishment of a national fuel council to co-ordinate the entire fuel situation in Canada was approved Saturday at the closing session of the provincial mines ministers' conference.

This suggestion was part of a recommendation "emphasizing the importance of oil and natural gas in the national economy" submitted by the conference's committee on oil and natural gas. Along with other resolutions and recommendations dealing with all phases of the mining industry, it will be presented to federal authorities by the provincial mines ministers. No date has been set for a meeting, although it was stressed at the conference that the meeting should be held "at the earliest possible date."

WOULD EXCHANGE FUELS

Included with the recommendation for a national fuel council, was the suggestion that some reciprocal arrangements might be made with the United States under which there could be an exchange of fuels between neighboring sections of the two countries.

This arrangement would overcome the long east-west haul which would be necessary to haul oil from Alberta or from Saskatchewan to the Maritimes.

Under the suggested reciprocal agreement, western Canadian oil might be shipped to the northwestern states, in exchange for American oil shipped to the Maritimes. The agreement could also cover other fuels, including coal.

The committee on gold requested the mines ministers to assist the gold industry in presenting to Ottawa a picture of the gold situation in Canada. It also asked the Federal Government to announce as soon as possible its gold policy for 1952 and succeeding years to allow gold mines to plan their production programs.

The committee of chief inspectors of mines condemned the federal mines department for its appointment of a certification officer to certify permissible electrical, diesel and other equipment for use in coal and metal mines.

Breaks Record Atlantic Crossing

Wing Commander Roland P. Beaumont, chief test pilot for an English electric company, is shown standing beside the twin jet Canberra light bomber, at Gander, Newfoundland, in which he officially broke the unofficial east-west record of four hours, 40 minutes, without refueling, set by another Canberra last February when the twin jet was flown from Belfast, Ireland, to Baltimore. Beaumont, who was Royal Air Force hero during the last war, flew from Northern Ireland to east coast of Canada in four hours, 19 minutes. (S.N.S. photo.)

Four Survive Plane Crash

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Queen Charlotte Airlines plane with four persons aboard Sunday was caught in a downdraft and plunged 800 feet to a crash landing in trees near Garibaldi Lake, 30 miles north of here.

All aboard the plane—including three girls—walked away uninjured. The light Norseman aircraft was badly damaged.

Veteran pilot Johnny Hatch was coming in for a landing on the lake when he was caught in what he said was an "exceptional downdraft."

He crash-landed the aircraft in trees on a trail between Garibaldi and Lesser Garibaldi Lakes.

The three passengers, Shirley Hill, Norah Neilsen and Marge Schmidt, all of Vancouver, crawled out unhurt.

WHAT'S YOUR OPINION?

By DON INGHAM and IRVING STRICKLAND

Do you approve of the city's acceptance of the old Spencer home as an art centre?

Mrs. Gordon Wismer, proprietress of Vagabond House, 1021 Gillespie Place: "Most decidedly I'm in favor of it. Some building is necessary and this particular home the city has accepted has historical significance where Victoria is concerned. You cannot measure culture by the dollar since it's not a dollars and cents proposition. This place has atmosphere, is badly needed, and is long overdue. It should also help to promote local interest in philanthropy."

Ken McColg, Sidney, partner in Radio Specialties Ltd.: "I understand the centre will cost the city about $3,000 per year, but any other city would have to spend that much—or a lot more—to provide an art centre. If the money was not spent here it would be spent somewhere else, and this will give something to show for the expense. I don't go to art galleries, but I believe it will be a good thing for Victoria. There were no facilities until now, and while it doesn't appeal to me, it will to a good many people."

Miss Muriel Evison, 636 Superior Street, Canadian Red Cross field worker: "It's a very good idea, since Victoria has needed an art centre and this home has such fine traditions. I believe all the time, effort, and money spent on it will be well worth while, as no city should be without an art centre. Some people have complained that the building is not fireproof, but if you are too particular you will never start anything. I would say 'anything to break the ice' and this is an exceptionally beautiful start."

Fred Hallier, 1198 Reynolds Road, Davis Motors Service Station manager: "I think the city should have an art gallery and a lot more things if it's to call itself a modern city. I'm not art minded myself, but a lot of people are, and the centre should attract a lot of visitors and tourists. Any money the city puts into it will be well spent, I believe, whatever the cost might be."

Miss Georgiana Wilson, 777 Pemberton Road, of Victoria public library: "I'm thoroughly in approval with the city's action in accepting the home. Fireproofing is a worry in regard to getting items for exhibition. A building must be first class to get the best exhibits, but I understand that has been taken care of. It's a wonderful way to start a more general interest in art, and the centre can always be added to at a later date."

7th Candidate Seen For Oct. 1 Esquimalt Vote

By GORDON FORBES Times Staff Reporter

Esquimalt Councillor James Bryant probably will become the seventh candidate in the Oct. 1 provincial by-election, it was learned today.

He is expected to run on an Independent-Labor ticket. Councillor Bryant, who headed the polls in last year's Esquimalt municipal election, would not make a definite announcement because he said there are "certain matters" he has to investigate before making a decision. He said he has been asked by many people to contest the by-election.

President of the recently formed Esquimalt Lions Club, Councillor Bryant has lived in the municipality for nearly 30 years. He is a machinist at H.M.C. Dockyard. He has been active in the municipal ratepayers' association.

If the councillor does decide to seek election, he will be opposing fellow councillor A. C. Wurtele, who is running as an Independent.

Others in the field are Victoria's Mayor Percy George, Coalition; Archibald McIntyre, Independent; Frank Mitchell, C.C.P.; Mrs. Mary Whisker, Independent; Keith Grey, Independent-Labor.

Meanwhile, candidates are making preparations for their respective campaigns, most of which will start to roll this week with meetings throughout the area.

IN COURT

Ernest Fabin McKinnon, a young sailor, was remanded to Tuesday for judgment on a charge of theft of a sum of money from Atkinson Copley, following his trial in city police court today.

Charles F. Grey, a soldier from Gordon Head Camp, was remanded to Thursday for sentence on a charge of wilful damage. Charge arose from extensive destruction done to property in the New England Hotel last week end.

Alfred Anderson, 297 Island Highway, was fined $35 when he pleaded guilty to a violation of a restriction on his driver's license—unlawfully driving a car not covered by insurance.

Raymond Ramsay, 3296 Shelbourne Street, pleaded guilty to driving a car without being the holder of a 1951 driver's license and was fined $25.

Farmer Happy, Noses Twitch In Smell Test

Four Came To Scoff, Remained To Praise

By DON INGHAM

Dairy farmer F. A. Rudd, castigating by his neighbors for creating a stench in the Burnside area with a liquid manure spraying scheme, won the admiration of Saanich Council members today.

A Council committee watched with interest the process by which he sprays his fields with liquid manure, and generally agreed "the smell isn't so bad."

The council visit was prompted by complaints from the neighbors of the smell, and a later invitation from Mr. Rudd for members to witness personally the method he uses six times per year for treating his fields.

Reeve Joseph W. Casey said the smell had been abated considerably from that noticed in the last operation by addition of chemicals.

"Mr. Rudd promised me full cooperation in trying to eradicate the smell altogether," he said. The committee will report on its visit at the next council meeting.

60 COWS ON 32 ACRES

"You won't find another dairy farm in Canada that feeds 60 cows on 32 acres," said Councillor W. C. Kersey. "Mr. Rudd cuts 15 tons of alfalfa per acre per year, and the Saanich average is two tons."

"Milk is scarce enough now," said Councillor Grace Shaw, "and I think it is to Mr. Rudd's credit that he produces so much. His fertilizing scheme must be responsible for it."

Others in the party were Councillors H. K. Bate and George Austin, R. G. Scott, Saanich sanitary inspector, and Dr. A. N. Beattie, Saanich medical health officer.

The system involves draining manure from the barns to a huge vat, where water and chemicals are added and the mixture pumped to 15 sprinklers through portable pipes.

Injured In Fall

A fall from a horse on her property at Royal Oak Saturday sent Mrs. A. S. Wyllie, president of the Arts Centre of Greater Victoria, to Royal Jubilee Hospital.

She is suffering from shock, bruises and a broken bone in her left hand. Hospital officials report she is resting comfortably.

He saw "Caddy."

READY TO BET

Shark's Fin Bill's Soup Not Serpent

Victoria booster Bill Archer, 1826 Government Street, believes he has solved the mystery of Caddy, the perennial sea serpent.

"I'll bet what most people see is a ground shark," he said today. "I was within three feet of one Sunday at Mill Bay, and the fin looked like a horse's head as it moved along."

RUN IT DOWN

The 76-year-old angler, fishing with a friend, tried to run the shark down with the boat, but was only able to come within a few feet of it.

"I won't say it's Caddy, but it might be what a lot of people think is Caddy," he said. "It's very fast and leaves a wake just like a boat."

The big fish was from 25 to 30 feet long, and is much more common in northern waters than here, he said.

Nation's Labor Officials Meet Here

Problems arising out of the administration of labor laws are being discussed at a conference of federal and provincial government labor officials which opened this morning in the Legislative Buildings.

This three-day meeting of the Canadian Association of Administrators of Labor Legislation is the 10th annual conference held since the association was organized in 1938 to promote higher standards of labor law administration.

The meetings are closed to the public.

It is the second time the group has met in a provincial capital. Earlier conferences were held in Ottawa. Purpose of rotating the annual conference among the provinces is to afford the members an opportunity to learn how other provincial departments are organized.

APPRENTICE IMPORTANCE

In view of the current need for an expanded working force a whole day will be devoted to a discussion of apprenticeship with particular attention to the past apprenticeship training can play in the defense program. The topics on the agenda include safety codes, government labor publications and minimum wages and industrial standards legislation.

At a dinner meeting this evening at the Empress Hotel the guest speaker will be Mrs. Clara M. Beyer, associate director, division of labor standards of the Department of Labor in Washington.

BLAMELESS DRIVER TELLS INQUEST 'BLUR OF MOTION' NO WARNING

A coroner's jury today exonerated George F. Rawlings, 1606 Edgeware Road, from any blame in the accident death of Joseph Lacey, 3½, who was killed Wednesday night on Burton Avenue.

After deliberating only a few minutes the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Evidence showed that the little boy, son of P.O. A. G. Lacey, on naval service in Korea, dashed out into the front of the car from behind a parked vehicle. The left front wheel had run over the boy.

"There were a lot of children playing on the streets. I've got two kids of my own and I was driving carefully," Rawlings told the inquest.

"I was watching a group of children on my right when I saw a blur of motion which I did not distinguish as a human form until it was right in front of the left side of my car," he added.

American Prelate Stirs Witness Service Throng

The greatest number of people ever to attend a church service in Victoria crowded the Memorial Arena Sunday evening for a Great Service of Witness held in conjunction with the gathering here of the Executive Council of the General Synod of the Anglican Church in Canada.

The congregation of 6,400 listened with rapt attention to the sermon delivered by the Rt. Rev. Stephen Bayne, of Seattle, Wash., Bishop of Olympia.

Delegates from all Canada formed a colorful procession from St. John's Church to the Arena prior to the service, with the band of H.M.C.S. Naden in the lead.

Making up the four-block-long procession were clerical and lay delegates, the Bishops of the church, in the order of seniority, followed by the newly-elected Primate of All Canada, Most Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Archbishop of Edmonton, with his chaplains.

Massed choirs of all Anglican churches in the Greater Victoria area were assembled in the north end of the Arena for the impressive service, outstanding in the history of the Anglican Church. The words, "We have not chosen you, but you have chosen us, and ordained you, that we shall go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain."

In a ringing sermon described by many of his audience as one of startling truths designed to prick the conscience of even the most complacent, the guest prelate stressed what he termed a trend to "painless religion" in Canada and the United States. He described "painless religion" as a willingness to choose God and ask that He make things comfortable for them, with many people attempting to use God as a handy instrument "for maintaining the status quo."

The service was conducted by Dean G. R. Calvert, of Christ Church Cathedral in Victoria, with Bishop A. R. Beverly of Toronto and Archbishop Philip Carrington of Quebec reading the lessons.

Following the sermon by Bishop Bayne, the newly-elected Primate of All Canada, Archbishop Barfoot of Edmonton, pronounced the Blessing.

Mayor Percy E. George, on behalf of the city of Victoria, presented the Primate with an inscribed silver tray. At the close of the service, the procession of Executive Council delegates returned to St. John's Church.

A permanent causeway is now being constructed by the Department of National Defence to join Fiskard Island to Rodd Point, on the western shore of the entrance to Esquimalt Naval Base.

Cost Of Living Bonus Promised B.C.E.R. Workers

B.C. Electric has agreed to provide a cost-of-living bonus to its 3,000 transportation employees to take effect from March 1, 1952, a company spokesman here confirmed today.

The company's offer was made last week in Vancouver during negotiations with representatives of the Street Railwaymen's Union. The union, which holds a wage agreement expiring March 1, 1953, had asked for an interim raise for drivers and mechanics to meet higher living costs.

Union officials will explain the company offer to the general membership this week. About 250 company workers in Victoria are affected.

Gold Initials Decorate Mom's Purse—Dad's Car

By PENNY SAVER

If you, or anyone else in the family for that matter, is in the habit of losing purses, wallets and such, the best thing to do is to get self-adhering, gold-plated initials.

They'll stick to anything! Size is about a three-quarter-inch square and they are scrolled in every letter in the alphabet.

The fellow selling them said that he has heard of people putting them on their cars, baby buggies, and radios.

The girls find numerous uses for them, of course, and so do the boys.

Bicycles, wagons and other valued possessions are all being monogrammed.

One ingenious woman even came in to get her initials to decorate a belt. A break from all the crested numbers being shown now.

Price is three for a dollar, but you can also buy them individually.

While on the subject of initials, I have something that may be of interest in that line. Copper plates, always popular, and attractive in the home, are being shown with either the family initials or surname in full.

MARY HAWORTH

Friends Admire Mother's Looks, But Son Wishes She Would Act Her Age

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Please do answer this to end a persistent argument in our home. My mother, a widow of 40, and my sister, who is 22, dress alike and they look like sisters, and usually are mistaken for sisters. Certainly my mother looks young, and she is very active with youthful interests, and I, her son, resent this youngness.

I want my mother to dress and act in keeping with her age; in short, as an older woman. We live in a large city in a dingy tenement district, where people are ignorant and slovenly, and the neighbors are jealous of mother's appearance and criticize her. My men friends, on the other hand, greatly admire her. They say they envy me; they say, "I only wish my mother were like that."

Kenneth Smith Wed Recently In Salmon Arm

A wedding of interest in this city was performed recently in Salmon Arm when Anna Pauline Olson of that city became the bride of Kenneth Fraser Smith, Victoria.

The ceremony took place in First United Church, Salmon Arm, with Rev. A. O. Clements officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Olson, Salmon Arm, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, Vista Heights.

Mr. Olson gave his daughter in marriage.

White Chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned the strapless bridal gown which was topped with a lace jacket that buttoned to the waistline. Added effect was created with a scalloped neckline and lily-point sleeves. A Dutch style hat of Chantilly lace touched with orange blossoms held the fingertip-length veil of French illusion net. The bride carried a bouquet of gladioli and wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Misses Hazel and Leona Olson, sisters of the bride, wore identical gowns of pale green and yellow, respectively, embellished with organza over-taffeta. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations.

Donald, Naylor, North Vancouver, was best man, and G. Carlton Olson, Salmon Arm, brother of the bride, was usher.

Yellow and mauve gladioli decorated the Montebello Hotel for the reception. Rev. A. O. Clements officiated.

The bride wore a copper brown gabardine suit with dark brown accessories and a gladioli corsage upon leaving for a motoring trip to London, Ont., where she will live. Mr. Smith is stationed in London with the air force.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Lazy Summer Mood Leave You Bulging? Try Exercise

This exercise where you make circles with the knees is destructive to overweight hips.

It would be nice if moths attacked fatty deposits instead of clothes during the summer months. Did you take my advice and swim a lot and eat a vital but slimming summer diet?

If so you have no special problems to try to fit into your fall clothes.

However, the chances are, that while you have a good coat of tan and more health than you possessed at the beginning of the hot season, you may have given in to the lazy mood of summer.

You may have spent more time on the raft than in the water and out-door life may have given you a tremendous appetite which caused you to forget your calorie counting.

At any rate, the first whiff of zippy fall will turn your mind toward your winter wardrobe and the figure you have to put in it. Any time of year is a good time to take figure molding exercises but fall gives us a special feeling of ambition. It follows right after warm weather and is such a sudden change that we respond with the eagerness one always feels for a new chapter of living.

Many of you will be glad to have a few hip exercises to slim that area a bit before donning your fall garments. Here is a good one for the back hip line and flattening the abdomen. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms extended out from the shoulder and your palms on the floor. Bend both knees up close to your abdomen, legs together. Keep the legs like this while you make circles with your knees. Make the circles as large as you can. You should lie on the bare floor or on a very

Princess Gown Worn By Bride Mildred Hick

Slipper satin fashioned on Princess lines and accented with Chantilly lace created the wedding gown worn by Mildred Edith Hick when she became the bride of P.O. Nick Shewchuk in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Saturday evening.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean heard the nuptial vows of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hick, McKenzie Avenue, and the son of Mr. M. Shewchuk, Lamont, Alta., and late Mrs. Shewchuk.

During the signing of the register Stan Honeychurch sang "Because."

Lace panels on the bridal gown fell to a peacock train, and lily-point sleeves complemented the fitted bodice. Her chapel veil, edged with lace, was held in place with a pearl and crystal head-dress. Only jewelry was a strand of pearls and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Lorette Prior, matron of honor, wore primrose organdy over tulle and carried a bouquet of mauve asters. Miss Joscelyn Provan and Miss Jean Provan, as bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of white Swiss organdy, imprinted with flowers over tulle, slips of green and mauve respectively, and carried arm bouquets of gold chrysanthemums. They had matching shoulder veils, falling from beaded head-dresses.

Master Leonard Reid, dressed in black velvet and white satin, carried the ring on a satin cushion.

P.O. Fred Massie was best man and ushers were Mr. Lesley Hick, brother of the bride, and Mr. William Prior.

The reception was held at the Y.W.C.A., where a three-tiered wedding cake centred the lace-covered table. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. G. A. Yardley.

For a honeymoon up-Island and on the mainland the bride traveled in a copper colored dress, winter white topcoat with black velvet trim, black accessories and a corsage of rosebuds. On return Mr. and Mrs. Shewchuk will make their home in Victoria.

P.N.E. Queen A Bridal Attendant At Jenkins-Unwin Wedding Saturday

As bridal attendant for Gloria May Unwin, who was united in marriage with Daryl Freeborn Jenkins Saturday evening in St. Matthias' Church, Miss Inez McLeod, queen of the Pacific National Exhibition, wore a turquoise blue lace and net gown over tulle, identically matching those worn by the other attendants, Misses Gwen Conarroe and Joyce Craigie.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Unwin, Crescent Road, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Jenkins, Hampshire Road. Rev. F. E. M. Tomalin officiated.

Mr. Parkinson played traditional organ music as the bride walked up the aisle on the arm of her father. During the signing of the register Miss Louise Martin sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Lace and net misted over shimmering satin to create the exquisite wedding gown. A high neckline was graced with a round collar and tiny buttons extending to the waistline. A sweeping cathedral veil framing the bride's blonde hair, was trimmed with lace and was caught in a pearl coronet. She carried a bouquet centred by a mauve orchid framed in stephanotis.

Maid of honor, Miss Diane Colton, Berkeley, Calif., was gowned in orchid toned sheer organdy over tulle and carried a bouquet of mauve gladioli and white stephanotis.

The three bridesmaids complemented their ankle-length gowns with colonial bouquets.

Little Douglas-Andrew, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Ron Gardier was best man and ushers were Alan Riddell, Ernest Unwin and William Wakelyn, Yakima.

A three-tier wedding cake embedded in tulle complementing the tones of the bridesmaids' gowns centred the bride's table at the reception in St. Matthias' Church hall. Rosebuds were sprinkled over the tulle and three-bearer candle holders held matching candles. M. Lawson proposed the toast to the bride.

Upon leaving for their honeymoon at Banff the bride and groom donned twin suits of grey Glen-check. Mrs. Jenkins complemented her tailleur with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

In work if business attend. It means perfect in the end. —Old Mother Nature

Some folks would call tiny Mrs. Hummer the Hummingbird fussy. Perhaps she is. Little Mrs. Hummer was fussy about where her nest should be built. She did a lot of looking around.

Finally Mrs. Hummer found just the place that suited her. It was not too high above the ground, yet it was not too low. It was well shaded, yet it was fairly open around it. Just a little way from that tree was another tree on which there were small dead twigs. Hummingbirds dearly love to perch on dead twigs small enough to be clasped in their tiny feet.

Having decided just where her dainty little nest was to be, little Mrs. Hummer went looking for material out of which that nest should be made. Again she was fussy, very fussy. Some of the feathered folk just don't care

DURING PERIOD OF VISIT

Government Relaxes Ban On Royal Souvenirs, Ads

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has no objection to the use of portraits of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh in advertising matter issued in connection with their October visit to this country.

A government spokesman says advertising matter comes within the scope of an Aug. 2 press statement setting out relaxations in the use of Royal emblems and portraits on souvenirs produced for the Royal visit.

The relaxation extends from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1.

In the case of portraits which have been copyrighted, the government assumes the user will make the usual clearance arrangements with the holder of the copyright.

The Aug. 2 press statement said on this point:

Blind Gardeners Compete In City Market Contest

'Easy' Bumps Into 'Fox' So Bermuda Only Skirted

HAMILTON, Bermuda. (AP)—Bermuda was hit lightly by the fringes of a tropical hurricane today but was spared from damage by a strange, diverting encounter of two hurricanes at sea.

The Weather Bureau said this was the first recorded instance of such a battle of the elements.

The unique duel dissipated the power of both hurricanes and saved Bermuda from a straight blow from the hurricane code-named "Easy."

"Easy" was headed for Bermuda when it tangled with hurricane "Fox."

The island's shores were swept by winds varying from 25 to 50 miles an hour but there was no damage. The only signs of the storm after it passed were a few flattened banana trees.

"Easy" was bearing down on Bermuda with 160-mile-an-hour winds when it encountered the smaller "Fox." The brush turned "Easy" so that only its edges touched Bermuda.

At Miami, Fla., the Weather Bureau plotted the course of "Fox" beforehand. On meeting with "Easy" the bigger blow was turned from its northerly course to a path going east-northeast.

Chief Forecaster Grady Norton said in Miami the encounter diminished the size of "Easy" and reduced its top winds to about 100 miles an hour.

While it is not uncommon for two of these tropical storms to be roaming the Caribbean or Atlantic at the same time, this is the first recorded instance of two of them meshing, "Fox" formed and was located some time after "Easy" but its forward progress was faster and its curving course made it intercept the larger and more dangerous storm.

Ordinarily, the course of these storms is clockwise but the collision imparted a counter-clockwise rotation which made "Easy" loop a path south of Bermuda rather than slamming head-on into the island.

Prosecutor's Office Hunt 9-Man Theme

Names of the nine lawyers who are seeking the post of city prosecutor, when Claude L. Harrison retires at the end of the month, are secret... of officially, that is.

The Victoria Times knows eight of them.

They are: Allan E. Bigelow, Ewan Rowntree, James J. Proudfoot, Gerald A. Lauder, Gordon A. Poupore, H. K. Bate, John L. McConnell, all of Victoria, and Nugent Spinks of Courtenay.

The ninth name is a real mystery. Even diligent digging by Victoria Times newsmen has so far failed to discover it. Maybe there isn't one. But rumor still whispers that there is.

Amateur Talent Will Show Films

Several well-known people have consented to show films or be guest speakers for the third annual Fall Film Festival to be held in Newstead Hall on Oct. 2, 3 and 4. Mayor Percy George will open the event at 8 on Oct. 2.

Sponsored by the Greater Victoria Film Council, the festival will feature a film made by Dr. Clifford Cart, director of the Provincial Museum. Dr. Henrietta Anderson, Archie McKinnon of the Y.M.C.A. and E. H. Scott have also been invited to address the meetings.

Dressing up the page alongside is an attractive young immigrant who left her native Germany only eight months ago to join her brother in Canada. She is Nora Von Heinberger who now makes her home in Duncan. Born of musical parents in Berlin where she received her musical education, Miss Heinberger is currently making quite a name for herself as a pianist in this country. While in Europe she appeared frequently as a soloist with orchestras in the German capital, and was heard regularly in recitals and on the concert stage as well as on radio. She will be guest on "Pacific Piano" from the CBC's Vancouver studios to night at 7.30 (over CBR). Her program will include works by Bach, Bartok, Chopin and Beethoven.

Details Of Peace Pact For West Germany Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big Three officials worked out final details Sunday of a plan to offer West Germany a post-war settlement similar in many respects to the Japanese peace treaty.

Remaining differences over terms among the United States, Britain and France will be taken up by the Big Three foreign ministers at their meeting this week. American officials said the differences were few and forecast the detailed plan to take West Germany into partnership with the west will be ready for consideration by the Bonn parliament probably this month.

The German settlement is the most pressing issue before the foreign ministers in their four-day session which is expected to be dominated by strategy problems of the world struggle with Communist aggressive pressure.

State Secretary Dean Acheson of the U.S., Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison of Britain and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France will be advised by the three allied high commissioners for Germany who did the spadework before coming here.

The draft of the new settlement substitutes a voluntary contract between the West German regime and the western Allies for the existing imposed occupation statute. In outline it is understood to call for:

1. Restoring an almost complete measure of sovereignty to West Germany.

2. Abolition of the three-power high commission, substituting for it a council of ambassadors to wield the few veto powers retained by the Allies.

3. Changing the status of the Allied occupation forces to defense forces. This follows the pattern of the arrangement worked out in the Japanese peace treaty and the accompanying security compact between the United States and Japan.

The foreign ministers, officials indicated, will be called on to decide whether to wipe out the present annual occupation expense bill of some 6,000,000,000 marks (about $1,250,000,000), on condition that the Bonn government apply this to building up its own defense forces as part of the proposed new European army. A possible alternative is an arrangement that the Germans would provide barracks, railroad facilities and so forth
